Description

The Akyga AK-USB-35 Lightning cable is used to charge Apple smartphones and tablets. It is a 1 m long cable that ends with a Lightning connector found in devices such as the iPhone and iPad, among others. At the other end of the cord is a USB-C plug. This is currently the most common connector found in new chargers and laptops. It is compatible not only with USB Type-C, but also with Thunderbolt 3. Furthermore, the cable will not only allow you to charge, but also to transfer data from an iOS device to a MacBook as well as a regular PC.

The USB-C / Lightning cable is made of high-quality materials that ensure durability and safe use. In addition, it supports fast charging with a power of 20 watts, which is extremely useful if you are in a hurry somewhere.
