Description

The Akyga® AK-AD-70 female-to-male HDMI adapter is a practical tool for easy connection of HDMI devices in hard-to-reach spaces. This adapter allows you to direct the HDMI cable at a 90-degree angle, eliminating the need to bend it, which often causes damage to the cable. What's more, the connector is made with HDMI 1.4, allowing it to transmit high quality 4K resolution signals and surround sound multi-channel audio. In addition, the adapter has support for ARC (Audio Return Channel), which enables two-way audio transmission, and CEC 2.0 (Consumer Electronics Control), which allows HDMI devices to be controlled with a single remote control.

The HDMI 90-degree adapter also supports 3D technology, allowing you to connect devices that support 3D content. This feature allows movies, games and other content to be played in a full 3D experience for a more immersive and exciting experience.
